

Bipartisan Tax Compromise Collapses In House

Readerger Sobs As GOP Bars Support

HARRISBURG, Feb. 9 (AP)—A 360 million dollar bipartisan tax compromise collapsed dramatically in the House today in a dispute over Gov. Leader's role in supporting it.

Rep. Albert S. Readinger, House Democratic floor leader, sobbed openly in his seat after House Republicans withdrew their backing of the income-sales tax package.

Republican Position

The GOP took the position Democrats failed to exact from Leader a promise he would actually sign the package—not merely let it become law without his signature.

Readinger acknowledged that such a promise was part of an agreement drafted by an eight-member bipartisan tax compromise committee.

An emotion-packed episode saw Readinger, who labored mightily for a week to forge the framework of the compromise, break down emotionally in tears upon telling the House:

"I certainly regret deeply the developments that have taken place in the past day. I think the public is going to hold all of us responsible."

In a rare demonstration, both Republicans and Democrats stood in the House and cheered Readinger for more than two minutes, as he sobbed in his chair holding his head in his hands.

Future in Doubt

There was no indication from either side as to what will now happen to the latest effort to break the Commonwealth's 13-month tax deadlock.

The crux of the dispute is a state law which provides that when the Legislature is in session the governor has 10 days in which to sign or veto a bill after it reaches his desk.

If he fails to act within the 10-day period, the bill automatically becomes law without his signature.

Speaker Andrews (D-Cambria) obviously disturbed at the governor's position, intoned solemnly from the rostrum as the tax bills were tabled indefinitely:

"The chair now commits the tax problems of the Commonwealth into the special keeping of the governor and his advisers."

Leader "Pulled Plug"

Rep. Smith, House Republican floor leader, let loose with the surprise bombshell an hour before the lower branch planned a roll call on the measure.

"Today the governor pulled the rug out by refusing to sign the tax program," he told the House. "He says he will not commit himself. What did he think the members are doing when they vote for a sales tax and an income tax?"

"If the members have the courage to stop playing politics he (the governor) should, too."

The governor's only reaction was this statement:

"Prior to the session of the House today, I advised the House leadership that I would sign the revenue package now under consideration in the House. If it is used now before the Senate Committee necessary to insure the Commonwealth adequate funds to meet its obligations."

Leader referred to more than 100 million dollars in business taxes passed by the House last year but pigeonholed in the Senate Finance Committee.

Headwaiter Enters Plea To Tax Count

NEW YORK, Feb. 9 (AP)—Hans Paul, former headwaiter at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel, pleaded guilty today to a charge of evading income taxes on tips.

He faces a maximum of five years in prison and a $10,000 fine. Asst. U.S. Atty. David Jaffe said that count alleged he owed $8,682 on 1951 taxes. The government had claimed he reported income of $16,196 but that he really made $29,220.

Quake Alarms Thousands But Damage Slight Across Mexico And Southern California

EL CENTRO, Calif., Feb. 9 (AP)—A strong earthquake rumbled out of Mexico and across Southern California just after dawn today, alarming thousands but causing only slight damage.

The jolt and a series of lesser shocks that followed could have caused serious harm had it not centered in a sparsely populated area of Baja California, south of the border.

No Injuries

It was felt by hundreds of thousands in an area of at least 250 miles south from Los Angeles to Ensenada and 350 miles east from San Diego to Tucson, Ariz. There were no reports of injury or death.

Most of the reported damage was in the crop-rich Imperial Valley of which this community, 175 miles southeast of Los Angeles, is the hub.

Store windows were broken and canned goods tumbled from shelves in Calexico, 10 miles south of here

Snowstorms, Cold Wave Continue Plaguing Europe; Death Toll Rises To 208

LONDON, Feb. 9 (AP)—Blustery snowstorms and bitter cold swept Europe today across a 2,500-mile front from Norway's North Cape to Turkey and raised the winter's death toll to 208.

Central Sweden reported its lowest temperature of the century—33 degrees below zero Fahrenheit. Rome was blanketed under the heaviest snowstorm in 16 years. Blizzards isolated towns and villages in Turkish Thrace.

The death toll from exposure, fire, storm and crashes attributed to Europe's worst cold wave of the century during the last 10 days read:

France 51, Britain 39, Italy 35, Germany 16, Greece 14, Turkey 12, Denmark 11, Holland 10, Austria 6, Switzerland 4, Sweden 3, Yugoslavia 2, Spain 2, Belgium 1, Cyprus 2.

Food shortages were reported in parts of southern Italy, Greece and Turkey.

Dozens of Italian hamlets were snowbound. A convoy of 17 American Army trailer trucks loaded with provisions and clothing left Leghorn for Rome, where an emergency depot has been set up to distribute supplies to distressed areas.

In Rome, the snowstorm threw traffic into chaos.

The first Russian tourists in 40 years to visit St. Peter's Basilica found it muffled in snow "just like Moscow."

Greek and American planes circled over mountain villages in Greece and dropped food. The government was considering postponement of the Feb. 19 general elections.

Relief Shipments

NEW YORK, Feb. 9 (AP)—The Church World Service reports that it shipped 22 1/2 million dollars worth of food, clothing and other relief supplies to needy persons overseas last year.

12 Rescued After Two Plane Crashes

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9 (AP)—The Navy today reported the completion of two far-flung rescue operations and disclosed a tremendous air-sea search is under way for the three-man crew of a bomber missing since Monday off Jacksonville, Fla.

Helicopters, seaplanes, submarines, amphibious planes and a blimp converged on the missing bomber area, which already has been swept repeatedly by 45 planes and six surface craft.

"Mission accomplished" was reported in the rescue of all seven fliers who had been missing in the antarctic since last Friday, and in the recovery from a Venezuela jungle of eight Navy and Marine men forced down while en route to help them.

Rescue Described

The antarctic rescue was reported in a brief message from the task force there which said "all hands safe and well." The men were downed while flying from Marie Byrd Land to Little America. Their single-engine plane was spotted last night by a Navy search plane.

An Army helicopter retrieved five more men from a North Venezuelan jungle-marsh where their long-range Neptune patrol bomber made a crash landing Tuesday night while en route to help in the antarctic search. The five were flown to Port of Spain, Trinidad, where they joined three fellow crewmen plucked from the jungle yesterday. All eight were reported unhurt.

The intense search off the east coast of Florida was concentrated 40 miles offshore, where a life raft was reported sighted after a bomber disappeared about 15 miles off Ponte Vedra Beach. Hopes were raised when one man was reported sighted in a life raft and another floating in a life jacket. But a helicopter flying slowly over the area was unable to find any survivors.

Rough Seas

All naval craft in the vicinity were ordered to help in the search. The missing plane, a Navy attack bomber based at Quonset, R. I., was engaged in electronics and radar exercises with destroyers when it disappeared Monday.

Seas were reported rough in the search area. Far to the north, the Air Force continued searching for one of its patrol bombers, a B26 which was reported to have gone down with three men aboard while en route from Keflavik, Iceland, to Goose Bay, Labrador, yesterday.

Another dramatic rescue was effected off Long Beach, Calif., last night when two of three Navy airmen who bailed out of their disabled plane were fished from the Pacific. The third man also was found but he died of injuries. The aircraft carrier Wasp took part in this rescue.

Eden Admits He Failed To Sway U.S. On Islands

LONDON, Feb. 9 (AP)—Prime Minister Eden came home today to report British-American relations better than he admitted yesterday to a group of Parliament. He admitted failure to sway President Eisenhower to the British idea of giving off-shore Chinese islands to the Communists.

Eden smiled confidently but looked tired on his return from a two-week swing to Washington and Ottawa.

He told newsmen at London Airport after a delayed Atlantic flight that the only difference which persists after his global conference with Eisenhower concerns the disputed islands in the Formosa Strait.

THE DAILY RECORD

Traffic Cops Defended By Councilman Doran

THE following statement was submitted by Councilman Edward A. Doran last night in criticism of the position taken by Burgess Hal H. Harris relative to the borough's parking meter situation.

"Answering Mayor Harris's statement in The Daily Record of Thursday, Feb. 9, I would like to clear up some of his 'let the docket do the talking' misstatements and add to this some facts that I know to be the truth since I have been on the council six years.

"You know some people figure the only way to get along in politics is to go along. Well, I don't believe that.

Reference To 'Loafers'

"The latest squabble, and his defiance not to enforce the parking meter ordinance came about by him asking for a raise in salaries for five policemen, excluding three others, namely Allen, Decker and Dwyer. He said, and I quote his exact words, 'I will not recommend a raise for these loafers.'

"Well, if standing under a traffic light for eight hours almost every day—Winter and Summer—is loafing, I don't believe any mother or father would like to have their son sentenced to this kind of loafing.

"Recently, at a borough council meeting in Stroudsburg a state traffic department man stated you will not drive into a town in Pennsylvania and find an officer standing under a traffic light directing traffic. He said it was just a waste of the taxpayers' money.

"The mayor tells how much the parking meter revenue has increased since Dec. 30, 1953, but he doesn't tell you that he upped the penalty from 25-cents to 50-cents and we have almost doubled the amount of meters. "The mayor's full appraisal of a good police officer is how many cars are tagged each day. Well, I don't believe this is the way police officers are judged in most towns and cities in the USA.

All Granted Increase

"The night the salary formula was set up every police officer in the borough was granted an increase in salary. And the only protest was made by the mayor. He wanted the council to set Allen's and Dwyer's salaries the same as (those for) a policeman on the force one year—not giving these two men credit for 10 and 14 years seniority rights.

"Well, the council wouldn't stand for that kind of treatment, and the result was Allen and Dwyer received substantial raises, I don't believe the mayor ever forgot this."

Signed
ED DORAN

Full Subpoena Powers Voted To Committee

HARRISBURG, Feb. 9 (AP)—The House today granted full subpoena powers to a five-man legislative committee named last year to study the practices of the Delaware River Joint Toll Bridge Commission.

The additional power, which will permit the committee to order any person to appear before it, was authorized upon adoption of a supplemental resolution sponsored by the three House members of the study committee.

All methods of operation, administration, financial policies and laws under which the commission functions come under the committee's survey.

Another change will permit the committee to continue its investigation after the current session of the Legislature adjourns. It is to report its findings and recommendations to the next session.

Sponsors of the additional resolution were Reps. Yetter (D—Monroe), Brennan (D—Bucks) and Metz (R—Pike). Other committee members are Herbert B. Cohen, state attorney general; and Sen. Yosko (D—Northampton).

Coffin Hanged

MONTREAL, Friday, Feb. 10 (AP)—Wilbert Coffin, 43, was hanged early today for the rifle slaying of a teen-age Hollidaysburg, Pa. bear hunter, one of three ambushed in the Gaspé wilds.

Type O Blood Still Needed For Ship Price

DONORS with Type O blood are still needed for Ship Price. Persons who would like to give blood should call Skip's father, Karl R. Price, at Cresco 2866, for arrangements.

Cash or check donations to help Skip's family pay the cost of hospital and medical bills should be mailed to Karl R. Price, Cresco. Checks may be payable either to Mr. Price or to Mrs. Chauncey Price.

50 Arrested, 20 Injured In Anti-Falange Rioting

MADRID, Spain, Feb. 9 (AP)—Shots were fired during student rioting today against the Falange party.

A government communique charged that Communist elements fomented unrest among the non-Falangists, spurring an attack by clubs and pistols. Fifty persons were arrested. No fatalities were mentioned.

Twenty students were reported injured. One, Miguel Alvarez Perez, a 19-year-old Falangist student suffered a grave head wound when a group of several hundred students, all wearing the blue shirt of the Falange party, attacked provincial headquarters. The Falange is the government party and the only legal one in Spain.

Earlier unofficial reports said Alvarez had died. A government communique declared he had been operated on for a head wound and was "still alive in a state of extreme gravity."

Miss Lucy Calls On Court To Get Her Back In College

BIRMINGHAM, Feb. 9 (AP)—The University of Alabama's first Negro student, Autherine Lucy of Birmingham, today asked a federal judge to compel school authorities to allow her to resume her studies there which ended in rioting on the campus earlier this week.

U.S. Dist. Judge Hobert Grooms set the new case for hearing here Feb. 29.

Miss Lucy, 26-year-old secretary, was excluded from classes by the university's board of trustees after rioting crowds had rocked and egged school officials and the Negro student Monday. The school contends the board action was a safety measure.

In a companion petition, she asked the court to order Dean of Women Sarah Healy to assign her to a dormitory room and to allow her to eat in university dining halls. She was not given dormitory space when she was admitted Feb. 1.

Hearing on the dormitory and dining hall petition, which asks $1,000 damages, was set for Feb. 29 also.

In today's petition Miss Lucy charged that she was excluded solely because of her race or color, in defiance of an order from Judge Grooms last July, under which the student was admitted to the university last week.

She termed her suspension from classes "a cunning stratagem" to deny her the right to attend her state university.

U.S. Doctors Urged To Push Salk Program

NEW YORK, Feb. 9 (AP)—The task of administering Salk shots to some 50 million priority women and children before the 1956 polo season was described today as a "medical emergency."

Dr. Hart Van Riper, medical director of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, pleaded with the nation's doctors to push the program.

He said the vaccine has not been as widely used as had been hoped. Van Riper said the supply of vaccine is "gradually improving" but that it may grow stale on shelves.

He wrote 200,000 doctors: "Cooperation of physicians in administering vaccine is now the key to the control of paralytic poliomyelitis.

"If a large number of children are to receive at least two injections before the 1956 polo season, there can be no unreasonable delay in accelerating this program at once."

Blasts Value He Places On Tickets Written

CHIEF Burgess Hal H. Harris last night was criticized by members of the borough council for apparently basing "his value of a police officer on the number of parking tickets he writes in a day."

The blast came in a prepared statement, written at the direction of Council President Edward R. Lawson after its contents were agreed on by other members of the council.

The council is expected to meet in special session at 4 p.m. today to act on the mayor's decision to reassign patrolmen from parking meter to traffic duty. Fines for parking meter violations have not been collected for a full week.

Council's Statement

The statement follows:

"The Borough Council does not wish to enter into any newspaper controversy with Burgess Harris regarding the Police Salary Formula but feels that the errors and inconsistencies reported in the Burgess' statement in The Record of February 9, 1956, should be corrected and clarified.

At the Council meeting of January 6, 1954, Burgess Harris recommended salary increases for all members of the Police Department except Officers Allen and Dwyer.

"The minutes state, 'Council was of the opinion that a sliding scale based on years of service, and providing for merit increases based upon the recommendations of the head of the Department, would be more satisfactory.' Considerable time and effort went into the development of the formula before it was finally adopted.

"Burgess Harris states that at that time only Allen and Dwyer were affected by the adoption of the formula. The records show that all men in the department received an increase in salary with the adoption of the formula. Burgess Harris is fully aware of the Police Salary Formula because at the Council meeting of August 4, 1954, he, as head of the Police Department, recommended salary increases for Officers Bauman and Wolbert. He was advised by Council that the increases recommended were in excess of the limits set in the Formula. However, the Council granted a salary increase to the two officers recommended up to the limit for years of service set by the formula.

Dwyer's Job Described

"Burgess Harris, apparently, based his value of a Police Officer on the number of parking tickets he writes in a day. He condemns Officer Dwyer because he did not write as many tickets as other officers. Officer Dwyer is given no credit for the fact that it is his duty to make repairs to, and keep in operation, the 614 parking meters in use in the borough. Also, Officer Dwyer spends the better part of one day each week making collections from the meters.

"A further misstatement in the Burgess' statement is in the amount of taxes collected in the Borough during 1955, as shown by the auditors' statement. The correct amount should be $91,985.74, instead of $56,760.90 as stated by the Burgess.

"The Borough Council would also like to comment on the Editorial in The Daily Record of February 9, 1956, wherein the East Stroudsburg Borough Council is praised for salary increases to its police force, without any cessation in meter enforcement. We have no fault to find with this statement, but it should be stated that all increases so granted were within the formula established by the Borough Council of East Stroudsburg, running from a minimum of $2,700 per year to a maximum of $2,500 per year, whereas, the Stroudsburg police salary formula runs from a minimum of $2,700 per year to a maximum of $3,600 per year and the salary increases recommended by the Burgess were in excess of the limits set in the formula."

Mad Dog Irvin Arrested In San Francisco

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 9 (AP)—Police today arrested Leslie (Mad Dog) Irvin, who escaped jail at Princeton, Ind., Jan. 18, where he was awaiting execution for the slaying of one of the six persons he was accused of killing.

Inspectors John O'Keefe and Leo Ferragamo picked up the 31-year-old Evansville pipe insulator at a pawn shop at Third and Market Streets this afternoon while he was trying to get rid of a diamond. "He acted suspiciously," O'Keefe said, "as if he didn't belong to the diamond."

MRS. JEAN HELINDORE, of St. Francois, New Brunswick, is a woman who believes there is always room for one more in a family. Having given birth to 26 children, Mrs. Helindore and her husband hold the newest arrivals as they are photographed with the 19 who have survived. The Helindores live on a farm near the northeast Canadian-U.S. border. The land provides vegetables and supports two cows that give milk for the family. Her monthly housekeeping allowance is only $150. Despite her problems, Mrs. Helindore says "We are very happy and would like to have more."

New MECO Substation In Operation

WITH THE PLACING in operation of a new substation along the Minisink Hills highway south of East Stroudsburg, Metropolitan Edison Co. has taken another step in enlarging and improving the power supply of this area, District Manager Theodore R. Henning said yesterday.

Having sufficient capacity to meet the power needs of more than 4,000 all-electric homes, the new substation replaces a structure along the banks of the Brodheads Creek. It has 70 per cent more capacity than the former substation and not only makes more power available to the Stroudsburgs, but has the latest type automatic switchgear and other equipment which will improve the reliability of service, Henning said.

Completion of the substation followed the rebuilding of MECO's lines across the Brodheads Creek and the construction of a substation at Delaware Water Gap. Both of these substations are fed over 34,500-volt transmission lines from Bangor and Belfast and in turn send power into Stroudsburg and East Stroudsburg. The latter has a third source of power from a substation on Burson St.

Serves Other Areas

The Marshalls Creek, Bushkill Falls and Dingman's Ferry sections will also secure power from the new Minisink Hills substation, which cost $275,000.

Work will now be started, Henning said, on enlarging and extending distribution lines served by the new substation. This work, Henning said, will probably require two years to complete and is being done to meet a constantly increasing demand for electric power by homes and commercial establishments in the area—all of which are rapidly changing to electricity for heating water, cooking, air conditioning and other comfort-giving jobs.

Meanwhile MECO is pushing construction of a new $25,000,000 generating station at Sandy Shore near Portland which will greatly increase the electricity available to the entire Poconos, Henning reported.

Rate Proposal Is Protested

THE BOROUGH of Portland has filed a formal complaint with the Public Utility Commission against a 40 per cent rate increase being sought by the Commonwealth Telephone Co.

The complaint charged that "the increase sought would be oppressive, unjust and unreasonable." At the same time, the borough also filed a petition before the PUC demanding that the requested formula be suspended until the commission makes a full investigation "concerning the lawfulness of such rates."

Speculative

The petition noted that statements attributed to officials of the utility indicated the rate increases would finance improvements in plants and services in the various areas served by the company. "Since these improvements have not been completed," the petition said, "it is averred that any rate increase at this time would be speculative, premature and unlawful. There is no adequate experimental basis upon which the commission may determine the lawfulness of the proposed increases." The petition further argued that the proposed rate schedule should also be suspended until proper investigation is made because the boost, amounting to more than 40 per cent, "is so startling and oppressive."

Barrett Y Plans Class In Bridge

THE BARRETT YMCA, continuing its plan of increased adult programming, will begin a course in contract bridge at the branch building starting on Feb. 17. The time has been set at 8:15 by the committee headed by Mrs. Albert Seig and E. J. Conley.

These Friday night sessions will last for a six-week period with an additional time if the course appears popular. There will be instructors for the sessions to help the beginner and the intermediate bridge player. Couples are invited to attend.

The number of people of several South American countries is increasing at the rate of 3 per cent or more a year, which the Population Reference bureau calls a near explosion rate.

DEATH NOTICES

Among the issues they'll be voting on: Party candidates for President of the United States (through delegates pledged to specific candidates); candidates for United States senator, judges of the Supreme and Superior Courts, state treasurer, auditor general, representatives in the U. S. Congress and representative in the State General Assembly.

Oscar Slutter Dies At Home Of Daughter

OSCAR W. SLUTTER, 78, died at 4:30 p. m. yesterday at the home of his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. James N. Canfield Jr., Bartonsville.

Born in Stroud Township, the son of the late Luther L. and Anna Gering Slutter, he had lived all his life in that township. He was a retired farmer who served 18 years as a township school director and a number of years as a road supervisor in Stroud. He attended Wesley Chapel.

Surviving are three daughters, Mrs. Canfield; Mrs. Frank Herting, Bartonsville, and Mrs. George E. Heller, Linden, N. J.; a son, Charles L. Slutter, Stroudsburg; eight grandchildren; two great-grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held Sunday at 2:30 p. m., at Dunkelberger and Westbrook funeral home. Rev. LeRoy Bernard will officiate. Burial will be made in Laurelwood Cemetery. Friends may call Saturday after 7 p. m. at the funeral home.

Scout Troop 86 To Attend Service At Temple Israel

BOY SCOUT Troop 86 of the Stroudsburg Methodist Church will attend services in Temple Israel, East Stroudsburg, tonight as part of their Boy Scout Week observance.

Clarence Booth is scoutmaster of the troop, which numbers several boys of the temple among its members.

Rabbi Ernest Meyerfeld will be in charge of the weekly service beginning at 8:15 p.m. The public is invited to attend.

Action Stayed On McCool Resignation

Two Persons Interviewed For Position

NO FORMAL action was taken yesterday by Monroe County Commissioners on the resignation of Chief Clerk Henry McCool.

However, Board Chairman John R. Lesoine said last night two persons were interviewed yesterday afternoon as possible successors to McCool. He added that the $3,600-a-year job possibly would be filled by Monday morning.

In submitting his resignation, McCool contended that the commissioners had not given him sufficient personnel to "properly do the necessary work."

"They have not appointed a chief assessor to replace Republican George Smith and they haven't been generally fair in their association with me."

Lesoine Replies

In reply, the board chairman noted that the "entire morning" yesterday was spent approving minutes of previous meetings.

"This action had been postponed," said Lesoine, "because the chief clerk did not have them ready earlier."

And Commissioner Willard Quick criticized McCool for resigning just a short time after his appointment to the post. He was named to the job early in January.

Meanwhile, the majority commissioners declined comment on a published report in which McCool was quoted as saying: "By resigning, I'm beating them to the punch."

Claims Ouster Planned

McCool charged that "a few Democratic politicians held a secret meeting last Saturday with one of the main points of business—my dismissal as chief clerk."

McCool is opposing Rep. Van D. Yetter for the Democratic nomination as state assemblyman.

In other matters yesterday, the commissioners contacted the High Welding Co., which is dismantling the interborough bridge, to obtain two plaques from the washed out span. The plaques will later be turned over to the Monroe County Historical Society.

The board also visited the county home to determine the condition of buildings there.

Young People To Start Drive

BOYS AND GIRLS affiliated with the YMCA will begin their annual selling campaign Feb. 17.

The junior salesmen will have an opportunity to earn their way to the Y's Day Camp, earn next year's membership or purchase a gym suit or gym shoes.

Profit from the campaign will be used for the YMCA's World Service Program.

Youths in the Barrett area will be working toward a development of a new basketball court in their selling.

Firemen's Dance Set For Tonight

STROUDSBURG firemen are all set to have themselves "a ball" tonight.

Beginning at 9 p.m., the firemen's annual dance will be held in the ballroom of the Penn-Stroud Hotel. Music by Clem Wiedinmyer's orchestra will be the highlight for the night.

Additional entertainment will be provided by a professional troupe from Allentown. A floor show will be presented.

Reservations for the dance are still available, according to Arch Rundle, arrangements chairman. They may be made by telephoning 3799 until 4 p.m.

Last night Rundle said return on tickets mailed out to homeowners has been "only fair" so far. Tickets for the dance may be purchased at the door. Returns for tickets mailed out may also be made at the door, Rundle said.

E. S. Board To Borrow $20,000

EAST STROUDSBURG borough school board last night authorized its officers to borrow an additional $20,000.

The money is needed to meet pending routine expenses in operation of the district's schools. Board had previously okayed borrowing of an initial $20,000 last month.

The school directors also gave their approval to a "cooperation agreement" with Monroe County Housing Authority. This agreement relieves the authority from payment of taxes to the school district. It is normally taxfree, anyway.

The authority agrees to pay a token amount "in lieu of taxes" under the document's provisions.

Man's Body Found Along DL&W Tracks

THE BODY of a middle-age resident of New York's Bowery was found yesterday at the east end of Manunka Chunk Tunnel near Belvidere, N.J., by a Stroudsburg employee of the DL&W Railroad.

State police at Washington, N.J., identified the victim as Peter Joseph Czersniowski, 55. The identification was made possible by papers found in the victim's possession.

Authorities said a cursory investigation indicated that Czersniowski had been dead for about a week and was possibly the victim of a heart attack. No marks were found on the body to indicate foul play, police added.

Detective Joseph Skalski of the Washington State Police barracks said the body was spotted about 3:40 p.m. by Lackawanna conductor Earl E. Fetherman of 2011 N. Fifth St., Stroudsburg.

Clothes Soaked

Fetherman told police he was riding in the engine of an east-bound train when he suddenly sighted what looked like a body lying on a slope about 20 feet from the tracks.

The train stopped and crewmen ran back to the place where the body was spotted, police said. The clothing was soaking wet.

Railroad employees notified Sgt. Harold Larson of the DL&W Police and New Jersey State Police. Authorities discounted the theory that Czersniowski froze to death, pointing out that there were barns in the immediate area where he could have sought temporary shelter.

The body was removed to the MacFadden funeral home in Belvidere where Dr. M. C. Marlett, Warren County physician, is expected to make an autopsy today.

Hasty decisions at a time of sorrow make clear thinking extremely difficult. Avoid this by making your selection now.

Authorities Should Prosecute Those Who Buy Stolen Wire—Scrap From Youths

The frightening potentialities evident in the case of three juveniles who have been involved by police in cutting Western Union and Lackawanna Railroad communications lines raises some very grave questions.

Not the least of these is: "What is to be done with firms or individuals, operated by supposedly responsible adults, who buy copper wire from juveniles for a mere 33 cents a pound? In this case it was sold in Easton, police said.

These people are compounding a crime. They are deliberately, or carelessly supplying the economic motive for youths, regardless of background, home conditions or any other factor, to continue a criminal pattern which has potentialities graver than the damage wrought by cutting the wires along a railroad.

Any scrap or junk dealer who supplies an outlet for stolen goods of this type, is certainly immediately aware that juveniles do not just come up with copper by legal means.

They must have sufficient reasoning powers to know that juveniles in possession of 45 to 55 pounds of copper wire—and that's a large amount when it's stretched out in communications lines of a railroad or Western Union system—are immediately suspect.

Characters of this type should be ruthlessly punished and, further, blacklisted by some means from ever doing business again. Proper authorities should press a case against them promptly, and without mercy.

Police Salary Issue Reminder;

"All That Glitters Is Not Gold"

The obvious and not-to-be ignored enthusiasm of Chief Burgess Hal H. Harris for salary increases to police "who bring home the bacon"—the bacon being parking meter revenues which certainly offset taxes—is laudable.

However, we'd like to point out that the people of Stroudsburg expect a bit more than that.

They want adequate protection against crime, speeding, reckless driving, proper traffic direction and movement, and all the other services due them from a police force—and they are willing to pay for it.

In other words—"All that glitters is not gold."

Dearth Of Engineers Hampers Sound

Services To Taxpayers Of State

A few days ago The Daily Record reviewed the stream clearance necessitated by last August's flood on several local streams.

One of the facts developed at a meeting with B. D. Murphy, chief engineer of Dept. of Forests and Waters was that the staff of the department assigned to flood work "is spread too thin."

Crying need to expedite stream clearance to avert another disastrous flood is ENGINEERS. Private industry, competing with government for the too few engineers, has the upper hand. State municipal pay scales are far below what private industry offers and youth graduating from engineering schools naturally moves to the higher salary field.

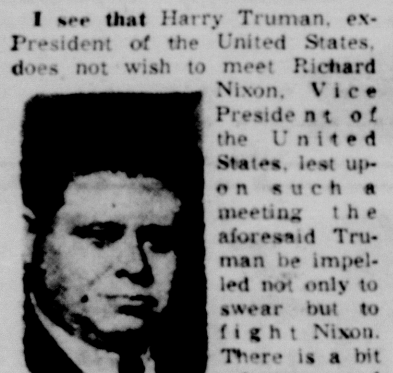

Most of the 1956 crop of graduating engineers will get starting salaries of at least $400 a month plus moving expenses—a far cry from state salary levels—according to the Second General Assembly of Engineers Joint Council.

But even worse is the ominous fact the nation needs 40,000 engineers a year and is producing about 21,000, one third of whom are ROTC graduates and move into armed forces.

If citizens of a state are to have efficient service, that state must first be realistic about its salary schedule for competent personnel, and second citizens themselves must join in the program to encourage more youth to enter engineering and technical fields blighted by manpower shortages.

George Sokolsky Says...

Presidential Campaign Due To Be Nasty Fight Which May Be In Very Bad Taste

I see that Harry Truman, ex-President of the United States, does not wish to meet Richard Nixon, Vice President of the United States, lest upon such a meeting the aforesaid Truman be impelled not only to swear but to fight Nixon. There is a bit of age and poundage involved. Truman being 71 and Nixon 43. Still, Harry Truman seems to be so vindictive in the matter that he might loose a punch or two but on the whole, it would probably be a ridiculous performance, as such things are.

It would seem that somebody called Truman a traitor in 1964 and Truman thinks it was Nixon and he is very angry about it. If Truman licked Nixon in a fist-fight, what would it prove? Would it prove that Truman was right in his abrupt and cavalier dismissal of MacArthur? Or conversely, would it prove that he was wrong? It would only establish that Harry Truman has a very bad temper, that his controls are weak and that it is astonishing that he was able to hold down the Presidency without blowing a gasket.

It would be more to our advantage if Harry Truman carefully read General Courtney Whitney's book on MacArthur, thus far the most documented work on the Truman fiasco in Korea. Then Harry Truman might answer the problems that Whitney raises, because the truth of the matter is that we lost the Korean War and that as a result the crucial battle of Dienbiensphu was lost which altered the relationships of Europe and Asia and established a condition of permanent war. If that is not a "hell of a fix," nothing is and Harry Truman cannot solve it by punching Richard Nixon. In fact, Truman and Nixon and you and I will be dead and buried before this particular ugliness in human history will be solved.

This little display of bad manners does not particular harm. In fact, it adds to the gaiety of a campaign year when nobody really wants to do much campaigning. So far, the Democrats have displayed more vitality than the Republicans because the party in power does not know what to do. Dr. White has gone to the Pacific to capture the heartbeat of a female whale and until he has accomplished this feat, the final decision on Eisenhower's life-tenacity cannot be decided.

Of course, Dr. White is only a reader of signs; he does not control the Book of Life. A man may be told that his heart can stand four years of the Presidency and then die of pneumonia caught while leaving an air-conditioned movie house. Who is to guarantee such things? If Ike is told that he is not strong enough to last another four years, he might last another 10 or 20 and die of old age. All this sitting around and waiting for the doctor is like waiting for the doctor to come on his daily round of visits in the hospital. It is a break in the monotony of the day.

The Democrats are having a real good time of it. I am sorry that I am laid up or I should have gone to Carmine DeSapio's dinner when Truman and Harriman and Kefauver held forth in the absence of Stevenson. All the Democrats say they want is a free-for-all convention which can only mean that all the preliminary work that Stevenson is doing will not show in delegates. Nobody is trying to stop Stevenson, but they are making it hard for him to get delegates and it is delegates that count.

At any rate, it will be a campaign this time, with a minimum of politeness, with plenty of accusations. The Republicans tried hard to make a deal to keep the foreign policy out of the campaign, the same as Dewey did every time he ran, thus leaving himself without an issue. The Democrats are making no deals, which means that there is a chance that things will be brought out which have been under the carpet for years.

And in this field, there is no unity in the Republican Party. The deal on China trade which Eisenhower made with Eden, the exact nature of which we do not know, will get an airing and will be attacked on the Republican side more than one the Democratic side. It may reopen the entire question of our trading with countries in the Soviet Universal State. The concept of this period as salubrious and without excitement because there is peace and prosperity is proving false. We are in for a nasty fight. And it may be in very bad taste.

Dear Ike: How are you doing back there on dry land. From Washington news, I take it dangers there are greater than out here. Saw first whale today and tried to harpoon it but threw stethoscope at it by mistake. Expect to do better any day. Best wishes, Paul.

Dear Paul: Knew you were a whale of a doctor but this is first indication you were a doctor of whales. If there is any whale out there which is having ticker trouble it is in good hands. Sincerely hope you do not link whale life and Washington life because of the "spouting" done in both quarters. Remember that no matter what you do, don't stop for a hamburger and onion sandwich. Sincerely, Ike.

FALLING BAROMETER

My America

—by Harry Boyd

Little Things Loom Larger Than Earth-Shaking Events

Writing these pieces has been a pleasant experience, on the whole. It's a welcome change from trying to guess what makes the Russians tick and to explain what Dulles thinks he's doing or why they don't call out the Marines to keep the dogs out of somebody's petunia patch.

There is need for people to take the problems of the world and the community seriously. But there is no need for them to take themselves quite so seriously as some do.

It's easy to work up such a lather over big problems that it obscures the infinite variety of little problems that are part of the same tightly woven fabric.

How we fare in the pursuit of happiness depends only partly on the atom bomb, Congress, the Kremlin, the U. N., the traffic policeman, installment credit and Ike's doctor.

There is also the feel of solid ground beneath our feet—the interplay of sunlight and shadow—the fragrance of flowers—the sense of company—the friendly smiles and laughing voices—along the way.

Most of the people to whose whims and foibles we must adjust our lives have names that will never be known outside our home town. But if we can't get along with them we might as well forget about trying to get along with the Russians.

A speaking door or a whiny voice may give us more grief in the perennial war of nerves than the Red Army ever will.

To make a long and by no means new story short, the little things, the minor stimulants, the low-pressure irritants—the matters overwrought pundits dismiss as trivial—bulk far larger in our lives than all the cosmic, global, national and state issues put together.

So it seems to me in order for bewildered, frightened scanners of the passing scene to pause occasionally between shivers and take a closer look at some of them.

Writing about these smaller facets of a wondrous and at times overpowering environment has its special compensations. It brings you into contact with so many nice people you never knew existed—and suggests the comforting presumption that there must be many more like them.

It makes you realize how many thoughts and impulses you've always hesitated to mention out loud are shared by lots of others. It emphasizes how widely people's interests range, yet how many things concern them all, regardless of where they live or what their backgrounds are.

It confirms your opinion that sense takes on clearer meaning against a foil of nonsense, that the capacity for tensing mind and muscle hinges on the ability to relax them, that roars are more effective when interspersed with whispers, that a frown is funny on a face that can't laugh.

But it takes a good deal of time—and who ever knows how much time there is left?

Try and Stop Me —by Bennet Cerf

A tub-thumper stopped his harrangue to fasten his attention on a young man in the front row who showed no sign of repentance. "Don't you want to be saved?" roared the revivalist. "Well," said the suspected sinner. "I'm member of the press."

"Oh," nodded the revivalist respectfully. "I beg your pardon."

A young crooner stopped signing autographs long enough to peruse a draft notice that had come in the mail. Then he tossed it to his secretary. "Tell them," he instructed, "I can give them the last two weeks a year from now."

Hatch Act "Political Sleeper" In Congress

Washington, February 10: There is a partially-enacted "political sleeper" pending in Congress that is as remarkable as the strange silence enveloping it.

It's a bill to repeal a key provision of the famed Hatch Act, which was passed during the New Deal for the purpose of compelling public employees to stay out of election campaigns.

But under the "political sleeper," this ban would be lifted from thousands of state employees now effected by it.

That would be done by repealing Section 12, which prohibits state employees, whose work is in any way financed by federal funds, from taking part in political activity. They would be free to engage in electioneering to the bill, as they were before the Hatch Act was adopted.

This extraordinary bill would be a big bonanza to both parties in this year's elections. Which may explain how and why it has gotten so far so early in the session.

For the measure was passed by the House on January 16, just two weeks after Congress reconvened, without debate, without a rollcall vote, and without public notice.

That unusual feat was achieved by a backstage bi-partisan agreement. Sponsor of the bill is Representative John Beamer, Indiana Republican, but it had the full support of Democratic leaders. They cleared the way for slipping it quietly and unnoticed through the House.

The very same thing is now happening in the Senate.

There the legislation is sponsored by Senator Homer Capehart (R., Ind.), with strong undercurrent Democratic support. In addition, Philip Young, chairman of the Civil Service Commission, is taking a hands-off attitude. Young has written a letter to the Senate Rules Committee admitting that under the Beamer-Capehart bill, "the political activities of these state employees would no longer be prohibited."

"But the Commission believes," Young continues, "that the policy on which this bill is based is one that is addressed solely to the discretion of Congress."

Tripped Up—However, an unexpected hitch has developed in the Senate situation.

Senator Thomas Hennings (D., Mo.), chairman of the Rules Subcommittee in charge of this political sleeper, is balked at allowing it to slip through as was done in the House.

A militant advocate of tough "clean election" laws, Hennings is not opposed to the Beamer-Capehart bill, but has one of his own to tighten up existing statutes. So far he has had no luck in getting it before the Senate.

Women's Aviation Equality

—by H. G. Heller

When Mrs. C. J. S. Miller finally decided to become an air traveler, she really started something. On August 11, 1906, she became the first woman in the United States to fly in an aircraft.

Since then, the ladies have invaded aviation in force. Today, there are more than 164,000 women engaged in some phase of the aviation industry in the United States.

About 122,000 of these women are engaged in the actual manufacture of aircraft. This represents about 16 per cent of all aircraft manufacture employees. Another 20,000 women, representing 10 per cent of all airline industry employees, are employed by the scheduled airlines. Thousands more (complete statistics are not available) are employed in various federal aviation agencies.

The Civil Aeronautics Administration reports that there are 11,564 active licensed women pilots, of which 14 hold helicopter ratings. The Civil Air Patrol, volunteer auxiliary of the Air Force, boasts 14,138 lady members (admitting only that they're over 18), and the Armed Forces point out with pride that nearly 10,000 girls are serving in military aviation.

Equality

The day has arrived when women have achieved practical equality with men in aviation. Besides building aircraft, they are officials of aircraft firms; they monopolize the sales counters of the airlines; they decorate the giant airliners as stewardesses; they inhabit the nation's airports in their own planes, and even hold races in which they allow no man to compete.

If that were not enough, the National Aeronautic Association has just recently decided that all air records should be lumped into one category. No longer are there to be special records for women pilots.

But to top it all off, some scientists are predicting that it is highly probable that a woman will be the pilot of the first rocket ship to the moon because of her better physical and mental ability to withstand the special stresses and strains of such a trip.

Men have got to look to their mettles, if they expect to keep ahead of the ladies.

Nu has not proffered the required official invitation.

Hindu Dance Exhibition To Be Given

A MEETING of the Pocono Mountains Art Group will be held in Wyckoff's Recreation Hall on Sixth St. next Tuesday at 7:30 p.m.

A special demonstration of Hindu dancing will be given by Marcia Clapp, of Bushkill. She will also give a lesson in gesture drawing with quick action poses, based on the theory as taught by Nicolaides of the Art Students League, New York. Marcia Clapp is the artist who just recently painted the large photographic murals in the tea room windows of Wyckoff's Department Store. She also makes pottery. She is a sculptress, paints portraits, landscapes and still life. The meeting is open to any one interested in the arts. Members of the Art Group are asked to take a painting for the painting of the month exhibit.

Day Of Prayer To Be Observed

SOUTH STERLING—World Day of Prayer will be observed by all local churches at a service in the South Sterling Methodist Church, Friday, Feb. 17 at 7:15 p.m.

Women of the local congregations will conduct the services. World Day of Prayer is sponsored nationally by the United Church Women.

A program of special music has been arranged. Mrs. Leland Crammer will be among the speakers at the service.

Frisbie Honored For Long Service In Ag Education

WILMER FRISBIE, vocational agriculture adviser in Monroe, Carbon and Northampton Counties, has been presented with a wrist watch in recognition of his 32 years of service in agricultural education.

He was one of 17 awarded watches recently at University Park, home of Penn State University, during a banquet given by Sears-Roebuck Foundation. The recipients were either county advisers or chiefs of ag education in the State Department of Public Instruction.

The presentations were made by A. L. Jones, district representative for the foundation, which sponsors farm projects for young people.

Greene-Dreher Grad
Frisbie is a graduate of Greene-Dreher High School, Newfoundland, and of Penn State in 1924. He spent a year teaching in Conneautville High School, then returned to Newfoundland as agriculture instructor.

Thirteen years later, in 1938, he was appointed area adviser for three counties with offices in Stroudsburg. He and his wife are the parents of two children, Floyd, of Valley Forge Military Academy, and Abbie Jane, a sophomore at Stroudsburg High School.

Ex-Constable Enters Plea To Charges

HONESDALE—A former Greene Township constable is in Wayne County jail on charges of drunken driving and driving while his license was suspended.

He is Nelson Ostrom, 46, of La Anna. Ostrom entered a plea of guilty to both charges yesterday before Justice of the Peace N. C. Farnham, Honesdale.

Farnham ordered him held pending payment of $500 bail. Since he could not raise the bail, Ostrom was confined to the county prison.

The two charges grew out of an accident on Route 90 in Angels Wednesday at 2:30 p.m. Ostrom, driving south on the highway, drove into the left lane and crashed head-on into a car operated by Mrs. Laura V. Smith, Newfoundland. Mrs. Smith's husband, Clifford, was a passenger in the car.

Three Injured

The woman suffered a broken nose, severe cuts on the face and knees, shock and body bruises. Smith sustained multiple cuts on the face and forehead, shock, body bruises and possible rib fractures. Ostrom's right wrist was sprained.

State Trooper T. A. Beezup, Honesdale sub-station, investigated the accident. Beezup arrested Ostrom at the scene. The injuries of those in the crash were treated by Dr. Frank Urdel at his Newfoundland office.

Ostrom served two terms as constable of Greene Township in Pike County. He went out of office at the end of 1955.

His license was revoked, officials said, about two years ago following an accident in which he failed to produce evidence of financial responsibility for damages to another vehicle.

Reports Given At Meeting Of Firemen

BUSHKILL—Bushkill Fire Co. members this week heard a report by Fire Chief Albert Smith Jr. with regard to an inventory of equipment Smith also reported that the recently purchased fire truck had been painted by Asher Whitaker.

Richard DePue, chairman of constitution and by-laws committee, reported that revisions had been made and presented to the organization. Action on these will be taken at the next meeting.

Lyle Staples was elected first assistant chief in place of George Ladlee Sr., resigned.

President Frank Messerle reminded all firemen of the fire school beginning Wednesday, Feb. 8. There will be 18 sessions with firemen attending at least 15 of them to be eligible to take the examination for a certificate.

Kemmie Garris was appointed chairman of the house committee with members Albert Schoonover and Lyle Staples.

The next meeting will be March 5.

Husband Can Claim Wife As Exemption, Not Dependent

UNDER no circumstances can a wife be claimed as a "dependent" of her husband or a husband be claimed as a "dependent" of his wife. A husband is permitted to claim "exemptions" for his wife only by reason of the marriage relationship, according to District Director F. P. Graham, of Scranton.

Mr. Graham added that taxpayers frequently ask this question: "May I claim my wife as an exemption on my return if she earned less than $600, and may she file a return and receive a refund of taxes withheld from her earnings?"

Joint Return

Graham said the answer is: "No. In order to claim exemption for your wife if she had income in any amount, you must file a joint return showing all income and deductions of both husband and wife."

"While an exemption for a dependent may be claimed under some circumstances, even though the dependent has income which is not included in the taxpayer's return—this is never permitted in the case of taxpayer's wife or husband," said Mr. Graham.

In support of the above, Graham listed the following rules to cover "exemption" deductions for husbands and wives:

Additional Exemption

If a joint return is filed (showing income of husband and wife) there is allowed, in addition to the husband's exemptions, a personal exemption of $600 for the wife, an additional exemption of $600 if she attained the age of 65 by the end of the taxable year and a third exemption of $600 if she was blind at the end of the taxable year.

If a husband doesn't file a joint return with his wife, exemption for the wife may be claimed only if she has no gross income and is not the dependent of another taxpayer.

New Officers Elected By Fire Company

MARSHALLS CREEK—New officers for the local volunteer fire company have been named.

Leonard Mosier is the new president. Other major officers are: Harvey Huffman, vice president; Ted Hoffman, secretary; Frank Driesbach, financial secretary; Ray Hartman, treasurer; Charles Degen, corresponding secretary.

Named to the board of directors were Elwood Huffman, Raymond Lewis and Franklin Hallett. Ralph Miller continues as fire chief of the company, assisted by Richard MacDonald and Carlyle Huffman.

Relief Association

New officers of the company's relief association are: Raymond Mosier, president; Irving Lesoine, vice president; Ted Hoffman, treasurer; Elwin Marshall, secretary; Ralph Miller, Raymond Lewis and Leslie Allen, trustees.

The fire company recently purchased a new inhalator-respirator-aspirator for use in rescue work. At this week's meeting, the firemen heard a discussion of the machine's use by George Ott, head of the ambulance detail squad at Monroe County General Hospital.

Ott will conduct an indoctrination course on the machine at subsequent meetings and will demonstrate the machine, according to Degen.

"I've owned a great many makes through the years, but Cadillac wins my vote as the finest investment of them all."

"In my book, it is the best dollar investment on the highway today."

We can't tell you how many times we've heard it. In fact, Cadillac's value and economy have become favorite topics of conversation among Cadillac owners everywhere.

And their sentiments are based on some very real facts about the "car of cars."

First of all, there's the economy of buying a Cadillac. Many models are actually priced competitively with the so-called "medium-priced" makes.

Then there is the economy of operating a Cadillac. Cadillac's gasoline mileage is simply phenomenal for a car of its size and stature... and its dependability and freedom from repairs are truly extraordinary.

And, finally, there is the economy that comes from Cadillac's great value. In resale markets all across the land, the Cadillac car traditionally returns a higher percentage of its original cost than any other automobile built in America.

And consider, for a moment, what generous dividends Cadillac owners receive from their investments.

... the great pride they derive from Cadillac's beauty and luxury... the pleasure that comes with Cadillac's performance and comfort... and the satisfaction they take in Cadillac's reputation among the world's motorists.

We suggest that you pay us a visit soon and investigate the latest and finest Cadillac investment of them all.

We have the car... and the keys... and the facts—and we'll be happy to give you all three at any time.

Idea Of Real Fire In Hell Interpreted Figuratively By Many Religious Leaders

By George W. Cornell
NEW YORK, Feb. 9 (AP)—Much church opinion today holds there is no real fire in hell.

You'll find various concepts of hell described in the pulpits and in the learned religious academics, but there won't be nearly as much talk as there used to be about scorching flames and brimstone.

"That's mostly a thing of the past," said Dr. James A. Davidson, a Baptist clergyman of White Plains, N. Y.

While the idea of "fire" still stands in some churches, it often is interpreted in a figurative way, far from the popular inferno-type notion.

Torment View Debated
And belief that hell means never-ending torment is widely disputed—a point many Americans may have missed, perhaps due to fewer sermons on the topic. The question caused a big debate in Norway recently. The church left it open.

"The great view in the more established churches today is that the punishment will be redemptive, not vindictive," said Dr. Cyril Richardson, of Union Theological Seminary.

Most denominations have, to a large extent, steered away from old-time attempts to blueprint hell—complete with sights, sounds and burning flesh.

"In our time, there has been a great decline in the fear emphasis about the last things," said Dr. P. M. Dawley, of the Episcopal General Theological Seminary.

"The medieval picture of hell as a place of flaming torment which held the minds of men for some generations was inadequate."

Deeper Implications
Among major churches, the Roman Catholic Church holds uniformly the doctrine of a fiery, eternal hell, and this view, with broader interpretations, is strong among Lutherans, many Baptists and some others.

But they, too, stress the spiritual travail—the sense of loss, failure and hopelessness—in the deeper implications of hell. And the nature of the fire is seen as problematical.

Whether it is of an earthly type, man can't know positively, said Msgr. Charles Walsh, New York director of the Catholic Confraternity of Christian Doctrine. "But it's real in that sense—it's everlasting and unquenchable."

Views of other churches and in Judaism are more diverse, but leaders say the Dante version of a physical-type hell has greatly diminished.

No Penalty Letdown
"There's been no letdown in the penalties for disobedience to God's laws—of the importance of the disaster to self now and in the hereafter," said the Rev. Dr. Allen Claxton, of the Methodist Broadway Temple.

"But there has been a definite transition from the kind of preaching that sought to put fear in people's hearts by picturing sinners in the hands of an angry God, writhing in torture under intense heat."

"If the church frightens people into being good, it only holds them so long as they are afraid."

What, then, is hell? Among major viewpoints are these:

1. Hell is spiritual (not physical) suffering after death, which still offers a chance of eventual, perhaps gradual redemption.

2. Hell is an endless state of self-made spiritual suffering, from which there is no escape after death.

3. Hell is simply to perish—the complete annihilation of the decadent soul—"everlasting destruction."

Quote Scripture

4. Hell is both physical and spiritual suffering that never ceases, and with real fire—either of an earthly or unknown kind.

Experts can cite scripture, in verse after verse, to back up the different concepts. The conclusions reached depend on weighing the many Biblical references and teachings, and balancing the whole.

The most mentioned definition is an abstract one: "Separation from God."

"Today, most theologians define hell as being shut off from God," said the Rev. Dr. John Mellin, of New York's First Presbyterian Church. "It is a present experience and a continuous process, true now as well as after death."

"More and more people are getting away from the idea of a physical realm of crackling fires."

Judaism's View

In Judaism, Dr. Emanuel Rackman, president of the New York board of rabbis, said the only dogma about hell is that "there are rewards and punishment, that man must account for his life to his Maker."

"What form it will take is not indicated," He added that those "who believe in a physical hell have become fewer and fewer."

Msgr. Walsh said that "everlasting punishment" for the wicked—both physically and spiritually—has been a constant Catholic teaching.

Beyond Hell's physical qualities, he said, "the fate is not so much the pain of fire as the sense of utter loss, and all the self-reproach that goes with it—the individual's awareness that he belongs there because he chose to be there."

Interestingly, the Catholic doctrine of purgatory—a purifying ordeal through which some are believed to go to pay for sins not serious enough to send them to hell—has counterparts in some Jewish and Protestant views of hell.

Progressive Redemption
Sometimes called "progressive redemption," Dr. Richardson said it is probably a "predominant view" in Protestant theology. It holds that hell, like a good prison, seeks to make people better—not just punish them.

"There may be all kinds of lives and experiences after death," he said. "We may gradually get more educated in the love of God."

Another view, also extensively held among Protestants, is that hell means complete extinction of the ruined soul—"The wages of sin is death."

While many Lutherans (also many individual Baptists, Methodists and small marginal denomi-

Britain's Highest Medal Held By Bushkill's Auten

By Leonard Randolph

CAPT. Harold Auten, Bushkill, holds a decoration for valor and bravery from the British government—but English shopgirls used to stop him on street corners and call him a coward.

Both the decoration and the slander occurred during World War One. Auten served in civilian clothes for many months, doing dangerous and secret work. It was during this time that he found himself helplessly confronted with the challenge to his patriotism and manhood—but there was nothing he could do about it.

Wednesday at his home, Auten sat down to talk over his own life.

Through the thick lenses of his special glasses, his failing eyes gazed down at the blackened metal cross in his right hand.

Held By 400 Men

The medal was the Victoria Cross. It is England's highest and most valued decoration. But the half-smile on Auten's face said: Let's not be too serious about this, old boy.

Auten is one of about 400 men alive today who hold the V.C. only four of them—including Auten—live in America. Actually, no U.S. citizen has ever, or could, receive the Cross. It is a purely British medal, intended to honor British nationals.

Only one exception has ever been made. The Victoria Cross was given to an "unnamed American soldier" after World War One. It was, of necessity, a posthumous award. It went to "The Unknown Soldier" buried in Arlington Cemetery.

Capt. Auten has become a permanent resident of the U. S. He lives now in Bushkill where he owns and operates Bushkill Manor and the summer stock theater behind it on Route 209.

An avid booster of the Poconos, Auten would much rather—at the moment—talk about the Wallpack Bend Dam and flood control. His property was seriously damaged in last August's flood.

With considerable prodding, he will stick to the subject of the Victoria Cross, however. Auten had thought no one in this country knew much about his V.C.

"I've been spending all my life here without saying anything about this, don't you know, but I guess you fellows have finally found me out," he said, with a chuckle that puffs his cheeks slightly but fails to move the rest of his substantial body.

The reason Auten was "found out" is a pretty spectacular one—from the British viewpoint. It's the celebration of the 100th anniversary of the Cross. This will take place beginning on June 29 of this year. It promises to be Britain's biggest hoopla since the coronation of Queen Elizabeth.

Present plans call for the return to London of all of the living holders of the Cross. Auten will be one of them. Does he plan to go?

Ready To Go

"Oh, naturally," he said. "It's a great honor and a wonderful one and one has a sense of honor and duty where these things are concerned. I'll have very little to worry about. I've already corresponded with the boys in New York about passage and I'll be ready to go when the time comes."

Despite the underplaying there is an evident pride in the way Auten talks about the V. C. At Bushkill Manor, Wednesday, the Captain's residence to talk about the award was nowhere more apparent than in his prefacing remark:

"Actually you can get one of these things without ever really knowing why you got it. I never found out."

The Cross is awarded by the British government in recognition of valor in the line of duty. No specific account is drawn up for each Cross awarded.

Auten got his, probably, for his service as a Q-boat commander. The "Q's" were the mystery boats of World War One. They were prowlers, running the length and breadth of the ocean in search of "Fritz," the nickname given to Germans and, more particularly, to German submarines.

Awarded In 1918

His V. C. is dated July 30, 1918. On that day Auten was in command of a "Q" running a routine search between Havre, France and Cardiff, Wales. The boat was torpedoed by a German sub. Instead of leaving the sinking ship, Auten's crew, at his direction, stayed silently by until the sub surfaced, waited until it came within gun range, then fired on it repeatedly until it was blown up and sunk.

In a letter about the action, the Commander-in-Chief of the Royal Navy called the crew's action—and Auten's—"one of the best examples of coolness, discipline and good organization that I have ever come across." The crew's heroism brought grateful thanks from George V—and the V. C. to Auten.

If this series of actions could be called particularly courageous, however, Auten might well have been given a V. C. for other service during the war. He served much of the time in plain clothes. Because of this he was the object of ridicule on the part of civilians in his own country.

"Many times on street corners one would be standing there when a girl would suddenly come up and hand one a white feather," he recalls. The "white feather" was the symbol of cowardice. It was used to "brand" young men who were not in uniform. Auten's duties with the secret service were kept so well undercover that only a select few of his associates actually knew what they were.

Because of this when Auten handed the Cross by George V in ceremonies at Buckingham Palace. In September, 1918, the Guards band struck up a currently popular tune, "Hush, Hush, Here Comes The Bogey Man" in his honor. The whole crowd—including the king—roared with laughter and applauded.

Wrote Book

When World War One was over, Auten began what was to become a lifetime affiliation with the making of motion pictures. He began his new career after he had written a book—"Q Boat Adventures"—on his life in wartime and had made a solid circle of friends on Fleet Street, London's newspaper colony. His first job was with Sir Gordon Craig's New Era Films.

Initially associated with production, he came to America in 1927 as head of distribution in this country. His promotion activities earned him world-wide fame in the film trade. British films—until then a drug on the U. S. market—began what was to eventually become an important factor in U. S. movie exhibition business. In 1943 Auten left New Era to become a director of the J. Arthur Rank corporation. He handled personally all U. S. promotion for "Henry V," the Laurence Olivier production of Shakespeare's play which defied past history to prove that Shakespeare, properly packaged and publicized, was good boxoffice. Auten is now an officer with the Greater Union Theatres of Australia.

Although he earned the V. C. Britain's highest award, in the first global war, Auten's pride is not confined to that decoration alone. He is equally proud of the U. S. Legion of Merit awarded to him in World War Two.

Auten got the Legion of Merit from President Harry S. Truman on recommendation of James Forrestal, Secretary of the Navy, for the service he rendered as supervisor of all allied shipping and Transatlantic convoys in the Port of New York. Out of that service came a record of convoy planning never equalled in the history of oceanic shipping.

Largest Convoy

The largest of these feats was the execution of a 167-ship convoy carrying 1,019,829 tons of grain, sugar, lumber, oil, steel and military equipment to England and Wales. It was the biggest convoy ever planned and carried through successfully.

The citation with the Legion of Merit said: "For exceptionally meritorious conduct in the performance of outstanding services to the government of the U. S. as British Liaison Officer for the Port of New York... zealously striving for complete unity between our two navies at a time when the German submarine menace had reached a peak of intensity..." Auten received this award on Nov. 30, 1945.

He is the holder of one other major national award—the Distinguished Service Cross. From The Netherlands came a fourth outstanding decoration. This was the Order of Orange Nassau, the highest award given by Holland. It was conferred upon him in January, 1948.

Auten's love for the Pocono Mountains dates back to 1933 when he first came to Bushkill. In 1938 he bought the old "Beers home" there and in 1939 he acquired ownership of the Manor. Ever since he has been one of the community's most staunch advocates.

This past year—with the fame and glories of a lifetime of heroism, service and business ability behind him—Auten encountered personal adversity. His sight, failing slightly for some years, gradually became so bad that delicate operations were needed.

Linda Layton To Be Bride On Saturday

Announcement has been made of the approaching marriage of Miss Linda Layton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Layton, Stroudsburg, RD. to Nicholas Berish Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Berish of Mount Pocono.

They will be married on Saturday, February 11, at 3 p.m. in St. Mary of the Mount Roman Catholic Church, Mount Pocono.

The bride has chosen her sister, Mrs. Donald Torrey, as her matron of honor, and another sister, Miss Jane Layton, as bridesmaid.

Best man will be Richard Halstead, and the ushers will be Thomas and Robert Berish, brothers of the bridegroom.

Congregational Supper Saturday At M. Smithfield

There will be a covered dish supper and get-acquainted party on Saturday at 6:30 in the new Christian Education Building of the Middle Smithfield Presbyterian Church for all old and new members of the church and their friends. They are asked to bring their own table service.

Hostesses will be Dora Hallet, Hazel Smith and Nellie Mosier.

Mrs. Alice Wicks will be in charge of entertainment for fun and fellowship.

WSCS Hears Talk On United Nations

The Women's Society of Christian Service of the Stroudsburg Methodist Church at their meeting this week planned for several coming events, including their part in the World Day of Prayer Service on February 17, at the East Stroudsburg Presbyterian Church.

A bake sale was planned also on Friday, February 17, beginning at 10:30 a.m. at Wyckoff's store with Mrs. Will Kraemer's service group as sponsors and Mrs. Elwood Hintze as chairman.

Members wishing to donate cakes may call Mrs. Hintze or Mrs. T. I. Metzgar if it is announced.

The meeting opened with devotions led by Mrs. Harold Stiff. The program featured a film on the United Nations and a talk given by Miss Lillian Stark of the Stroudsburg High School faculty on the United Nations and its purposes and accomplishments. Judy Blutman, a student, operated the projector.

Following the Wednesday night study session, a collection was taken for the committee on World Literacy and Christian Literature, and at the WSCS meeting a collection was taken to defray the expenses of an Indian-American college girl attending Pocono Plateau sessions.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

News goes by spells, I guess. Yesterday it was the Heart Fund cropping up in every other news story, and today it seems as if the American Legion Auxiliaries all come forth at once. The week after that it will probably be PTAs.

Fund drives come in bunches, too, and I was interested to note that at just one meeting of one organization, the members donated to Folio, and heard from the heads of the Heart Fund and Cancer Drive. I don't know who the head of the Red Cross drive in Poplar Valley is to be but she was probably at that same WSCS meeting, too.

Sure, it's tough but it would be a lot tougher if you didn't have the money to give to each of them. Really didn't have it, I mean, not just reluctant to part with it.

Another thing I notice more and more lately is how the programs of the church women's organizations dovetail. Practically all of the study groups are now taking up some form of study, discussion and ways to help the American Indian. Gives them a unanimity of purpose that is bound to be a strengthening influence.

Of course, the study group is nothing new in church groups, but the concentration on one topic is. I'll always remember how Mrs. Althea Staples was so much at home following the news of battles and campaigns in the South Pacific, places with the strange-sounding names. They weren't strange to her, however, not after heading her Missionary Society for some 20 years, they were as familiar as Cherry Valley or the next village.

Valentine Party For WSCS Of Poplar Valley

POPULAR VALLEY—An unexpected Valentine party was given to the Poplar Valley Women's Society of Christian Service at their meeting on Wednesday night at the home of Mrs. Ralph Moyer, Mrs. Moyer and Mrs. Glenn Reish were hostesses.

The members, arriving for a routine business meeting, found the house decorated with Valentines and cupid. Mrs. Edward Gunn presided at the business meeting, and Mrs. Paul Albert led the devotions centered on the theme of prayer. Mrs. Gunn read the Scripture, Mrs. Ernest Brewer read a poem by Grace Crowell and Mrs. Albert gave a reading by Norman Vincent Peale.

Special prayers in the prayer circle were given for Fred Dennis and Henry Crossdale, members of the community on the sick list.

Members were invited to a luncheon to be given in Philadelphia honoring Ida Campbell on her retirement from the district organization. News bulletins were distributed.

In discussing community welfare drives, the group donated $5 to the Polio Fund. Mrs. Gunn who is in charge of the cancer fund drive in that section said that she could arrange to show movies or have a speaker on the subject at a future meeting. Mrs. Albert is head of the heart fund drive in the valley.

In other business, the club voted to buy paint for the church and new pipe for the furnace. Mrs. Elwood Fenner, secretary, will inquire into a project of giving used nylon stockings to the Japanese women for making gloves. Prompt delivery of the Traveling Basket was urged. A report on the bake sale given by all the churches of the charge showed that $98 had been realized. This money will be used for bulletins and letterheads.

On March 7, the WSCS will have a meeting at night in the social hall when supper will be served for the families as a work session is planned. The men will build new shelves as well as doing other necessary repairs.

Following the meeting games, arranged by Mrs. Moyer and Mrs. Reish, were played. Prizes were won by Mrs. Edward Gunn, Mrs. Ted Bush, Mrs. Paul Albert, and Mrs. Elwood Fenner. Refreshments were served from a table decorated with valentines. As a centerpiece they had a Valentine Coach, drawn by six white horses, and filled with flowers.

Attending the meeting were Mrs. Paul Albert, Debbie Albert, Mrs. Donald Beseker, Mrs. Ernest Brewer, Mrs. Horace Brewer Jr., Mrs. Ted Bush, Mrs. Norman Dennis, Mrs. Elwood Fenner, Mrs. Edward Gunn, Miss Joyce Gunn, Mrs. Raymond Haney, Mrs. Harold Herman, Rev. and Mrs. Clyde Levergood, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Moyer and Barbara and Dannie Moyer, Mrs. Leon Parcell, Mrs. Glenn Reish, Mrs. Orien Reish and Mrs. Harry Williams.

Barrett Legion Aux. Contributes To Polio, Heart

Barrett — The Barrett American Legion Auxiliary voted two $5 contributions at their meeting on Monday night, one to the local Polio Fund and one to the Heart Fund.

Letters of thanks were read for the Christmas packages sent out by the auxiliary.

Mrs. Lillian Shoemith presided at the meeting when there were 19 members present. Mrs. Jennie Evans and Mrs. Gladys Fisher were reported on the sick list.

During the social hour, members celebrated the birthdays of Joe Meeks, Blanche Evans, and Lillian Shoemith, and held a surprise baby shower for Mrs. Hazel Kintzel. Refreshments were served by the committee.

The March 5 meeting will feature a covered dish luncheon.

Dance Saturday To Benefit March Of Dimes

Bushkill—The round and square dance to be held on Saturday night, February 11 at the Bushkill Firehouse, will serve an important purpose since the proceeds of this affair will be Lehman township's contribution to the March of Dimes fund.

Refreshments will be sold during the night and cake walks will be featured. A door prize will be an added attraction. All refreshments, cakes and door prize will be donated by citizens of the township. The dance is being sponsored by the Parent Teachers Association of the Bushkill school with Mrs. Ralph G. Turn Jr., serving as general chairman.

Round dancing to recordings will begin at 8 p.m., and square dancing will begin at 9 p.m.

David Van Sciver Leaves Hospital

Tannersville—David VanSciver, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles VanSciver, has returned with his mother from Scranton, where he was hospitalized while undergoing a delicate eye operation. It proved quite successful and David was very brave throughout the ordeal. He was much encouraged by the many cards and kind messages from his friends.

Women's Guild Begins Study Of American Indians

Tannersville — The Women's Guild of Grace Reformed Church met recently in the Sunday School room, with the devotional period being led by Cora Smith, with Eloda Gerhard at the piano.

Readings were given by Edith and Jeanne Gurr and Muriel Foote read the scripture lesson.

Margaret Tallada, missionary chairman, was in charge of the program. The subject for this year is the "American Indian and his Problems" and the topic for this meeting was the Winnebago Indians. Cora Smith read statistics regarding the population increase and shrinkage in land holdings with reference to these tribes.

Annabelle Beechata spoke on the subject of the health, education and prejudice problems of the American Indians. Muriel Foote showed pictures and informed the group about the new Children's Home which has been built at Nealsville, Wis., at which there are 5 Indian students of the Winnebago.

Margaret Tallada read a letter thanking the Guild for their donation to Dr. Virginia Blakeslee and stating the money will be used to further the education of a Christian young girl student.

The business meeting was in charge of Muriel Foote. The auditor's report was read and accepted. Mrs. Foote read a letter written to the Guild from the Winnebago Indian School, thanking them for the clothing which had been sent.

The World Day of Prayer services were discussed and a contribution made. Attention was called to the poster, essay and poem contest being held throughout the whole denomination, which contest closes the first of March. Mrs. Laura Niering is the chairman in charge of same.

Teen Canteen Proposed For Sterling Area

Newfoundland—An appeal for improvement in recreational facilities for the youth of the community was heard at a meeting of Unit No. 859, American Legion Auxiliary, at the Sterling Hotel, South Sterling, Tuesday night.

Two representatives of the senior class at the Greene-Dreher-Sterling school, Barbara Smith and John Manhart, spoke to the group on the results of a recent survey conducted by the class, pointing out that 80 per cent of students in grades 11 and 12 travel long distances from the area for their main recreation.

A solution, the speakers asserted, was the establishment of a "teen canteen," where the youth of the community could gather and enjoy wholesome entertainment. They asked that the Auxiliary unit appoint a committee to meet with similar committees of other civic organizations to discuss the problem.

Mrs. LeRoy Bartleson, president of the unit, responded by stating that under present plans, the proposed American Legion home would be made available for such an establishment. However, assistance of other groups in the community would be necessary to carry out the plan, she pointed out.

The president appointed Mrs. Robert Staph, Mrs. Donald Barnes and Mrs. Edward Parson Jr., as the "teen-canteen" committee.

The group also heard a report by Mrs. Bartleson of a recent Wayne-Pike Council meeting held at Hawley and a talk on civilian defense by Mrs. Robert Rochford, council chairman of that activity.

The group voted to award an American medal to an eighth grade student at the Hamlin school as they have in the past.

Mrs. Bartleson reminded members of the dinner to be served in the local school auditorium, Saturday, February 18 at 5:30 p.m. Waitresses are to report at 4 p.m., she said.

The tallest spires in the world are believed to be on the Ulm cathedral in Germany. They are 529 feet high.

Winter Picnic Draws 100 To Grace Church

The first "Winter Picnic" of Grace Lutheran Sunday School, East Stroudsburg, attracted 100 to the social rooms of the parish house on Wednesday where they enjoyed an evening of fellowship around heavily laden tables. Pastoral prayer was given by the minister, Rev. William F. Wunder.

Joseph H. Small, Hanford L. Cleveland and Stanley Woolbert, superintendents were present to assist David L. Miller, picnic chairman. Mrs. Florence Bush, president of the Women's Guild, prepared the coffee, assisted by Mrs. Clara Miller and Mrs. Adelaide Volkert. A special feature was a pink-iced birthday cake in 34th birthday adorned with 34 lighted candles. The surprise was accompanied by the singing of "Happy Birthday."

After the "picnic" several cartoons were projected for the children. A half hour sound movie in color was also shown on "Our Pennsylvania." Norman Snyder served as projectionist.

Bake Sale Saturday

Tannersville — A bake sale will be held Saturday beginning at 10:30 a.m. at Metzgar's Nu-Way Market, Tannersville, given by the Young Adult Bible Class of St. Paul's Lutheran Sunday sale will open at 9 a. m. and continue.

Fabrication lined and now made so that garters may be easily replaced, the new Playtex girdles have arrived in our corset department. These girdles never stay in stock long, too many women swear by them. May Coffman says I should stress that Playtex is split resistant — a very important selling point, since a girdle that rips from stem to stern might be very embarrassing to its wearer. Which reminds me that Jackie Gleason had a few uncomfortable moments last week when he doubted for Edward R. Murrow and visited the home of a prominent TV executive and his wife. Seems that while the hostess was showing her "guests" around, and while the cameras were grinding away, her dapper gown unzipped, and she finished the telecast with her husband's arm around her holding her together. . . . Whether they're attached to a gift package, used as a favor at a birthday party, or simply presented at Easter, there's nothing cuter anywhere than the Roofus Gofus bird. These feather-trimmed birds are of styrofoam and paper, and have a saucy, jaunty look. What's more, there are twelve delightful surprises concealed beneath their finery. Grown-ups love them almost as much as do the children. Roofus Gofus also comes in other guises—as an Indian, a pirate, Robin Hood, etc. His price is 98c. I'm just goofy over Gofus! . . . If you heard the Wyckoff Shopper radio program of last Friday, you may recall suggestions for Valentine entertaining advanced by a representative of Hallmark. The Hallmark Cupid Carriage, which was discussed at that time, is on sale in Elsie Miller's department for 1.00. It is a lovely centerpiece and I have an idea the windows of the coach could be cut out and snapshots of a couple pasted in, as a pretty and unusual method of announcing an engagement, come February 14th.

Walking along our main floor the other afternoon I was confused by buzzing sounds that came from nowhere in particular. "What is that?" I finally asked, and was advised that the noise came regularly from the Hi-Fi Machine right inside our door. It seems every customer is fascinated by the invitation to learn how much he or she actually knows about the human heart and heart disease. When you push a button under "Yes" or "No" the light flashes, the buzzer sounds, and you are scored. The display has been set up by the Monroe County Heart Committee to remind you that this is Heart Month and your contributions can help promote cardiac research. If your heart is in the right place, deposit at least something in the plastic banks so evident everywhere, won't you?

FROM THE MAIL BAG

I appreciate the following letter and think you will enjoy it too. Many thanks to the writer:

Dear Wyckoff Shopper:

Recently I came across a letter that my daughter had written to her Daddy while he was overseas. In it she told him about the Girl Scout uniform she had received for Christmas, and how surprised she had been—a little incident I had long ago forgotten.

I remember now asking your clerk to tell my daughter, when she came in to inquire, that the uniforms hadn't come in, and weren't expected until after Christmas, which she did. I don't remember who the clerk was, but even then your salespeople went along with a Christmas secret. No wonder Wyckoff's is more than just a store—it's an institution.

Scranton Nips East Stroudsburg Teachers Before 1,200 Fans

Warriors Fail After Late Rally, 76-72

RAY WELSH made his return to Normal Hill a triumphant one last night as the University of Scranton battled to a 76-72 verdict over a spirited East Stroudsburg State Teachers College machine that had approximately 1,200 spectators in an uproar right down to the final second of play.

East Stroudsburg went down to its eighth defeat in 11 outings when a brilliant last quarter rally was dashed with the cold waters of failure in the final five seconds of play.

The victory was the seventh for the vastly improved Scranton contingent that has dropped 10 contests. It was the third straight for the visiting Royals.

Scranton used a fast break and a terrific shooting average from the field to do most of its damage in the first half. The Royals time after time tipped the ESSTC defense to shreds with the fast break and solid passing technique as taught by Welsh, a popular resident of Stroudsburg, Welsh is a former ESSTC cage mentor.

BALLET?—No it's only a moment of unusual action during the first quarter of last night's basketball game between East Stroudsburg State Teachers College and the University of Scranton. Tom McHugh, making like a ballet dancer with the outstretched arm, just missed intercepting a pass for the Scrantonians. Wilmont Smith is the ESSTC cager in possession of the ball. Other Warriors shown are Dave "Kelly" McLaughlin (24), Charley German (22) and Walt "Moose" Bjorn (23). Scranton went on to win a thrilling 76-72 decision.

Fegley To Represent Area Little Leagues At Chicago's National Convention Next Month

DR. WINSTON Fegley, a resident of Hazleton and commissioner of District Three, of the Pennsylvania Little League setup, was selected to represent Section One at the National Little League meeting in Chicago.

Fegley was named delegate to the convention during a meeting of area Little Leagues at the Monroe County YMCA last night.

The delegate was selected by representatives of the Pocono Little League, Stroudsburg, East Stroudsburg, Pen Argyl and Bangor Little Leagues.

Dates for the National Convention are Thursday, Friday and Saturday, March 22, 23 and 24.

Stroudsburg representatives at the meeting were Jack Mullins, president; Ed Yost and Pete Kemmerer, East Stroudsburg was represented by Paul Lloyd, president, and C. A. "Phiz" Nauman, vice president.

Frank Thomas and George Manos were present for the Pocono Little League and Lou Triganani was on hand for Bangor.

A general discussion on the Little League-Carl Stutz dispute took up a great deal of the meeting time.

Sportslovers Pay Tribute To Mack

By Tom Bradshaw
PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 9 (AP)—Sportslovers in every walk of life today joined in mourning Connie Mack, the baseball giant who bequeathed his beloved game a vast trust fund of spirit, tradition and legend.

Some of baseball's leading figures planned to pay their final respects tomorrow and Saturday to the man who played such a major role in building the game into a near-industry.

Mack, born Cornelius J. McGillicuddy, died yesterday at the age of 93. He passed away peacefully at the home of a daughter in the Germantown section of Philadelphia, his death perhaps hastened by a hip fracture sustained in a fall out of bed last October.

The viewing will be held tomorrow night at the Oliver H. Bair Funeral Home in downtown Philadelphia with burial in Holy Sepulchre Cemetery here.

Special plans were being made by the city's authorities today for the anticipated crowds—at the funeral home and outside the grey-stone Roman Catholic Church, which might have been the site of a happier occasion if Grace Kelly and her prince hadn't decided to be married in Monaco.

Honorary pallbearers will be Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick, American League President Will Harridge, National League President Warren Giles, the owners of the 16 major league clubs and George Trautman, president of the minor leagues.

Senators Ink Two Infielders

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9 (AP)—Two of the Washington Senator's Latin American baseball players returned their signed contracts today.

They are Jose Valdivielso, shortstop, and Pompeyo Davallillo, second baseman.

Morehead State Nears Record

NEW YORK, Feb. 9 (AP)—Morehead State College of Kentucky has a chance to smash the major college basketball scoring record during its first season in the big time, the NCAA Service Bureau reported today.

Coach Bobby Laughlin's Eagles have the top offensive mark of the season to date, with a record-breaking average of 96.7 points in 19 games. The figures are for games through Feb. 4.

Small Size

Morehead is one of the smallest of the 166 teams in the major college basketball field, and if the Eagles can maintain their pace for another half dozen games they'll shatter the all time high of 95.3 points per game set last year by Furman. This bars tournament play.

Marshall of West Virginia is second in scoring with a 94.2 average. The nation's No. 1 team, San Francisco, apparently has the defensive title sewed up. The Dons allowed 49.8 points per game to 17 opponents.

NIT Field Grows To Six Entries

By Hugh Fullerton Jr.
NEW YORK, Feb. 9 (AP)—The National Invitation basketball tournament, hustling for entries while they're still available, grabbed off one of the nation's two undefeated college teams today and completed half its 12-team field before the rival NCAA tournament has named a team.

Following its 16th straight victory this season, St. Francis of Brooklyn accepted the NIT invitation that had been proffered some time ago. At the same time selection committee chairman Walter T. McLaughlin confirmed the previously-reported entries of Marquette and Xavier of Cincinnati.

This brought the NIT entry list to six: Duquesne, the 1955 winner; Dayton, last year's runnerup, and Seton Hall previously had accepted invitations to the post-season jamboree in Madison Square Garden, March 17-24.

The records of some of these six hardly are outstanding, but they're among the best available in an increasingly-competitive situation.

Most of the top ten teams are committed to the National Collegiate championship through its system of automatic qualification of conference champions. The Yankee and Ohio Valley Conference were added to that list this year, providing for 17 "automatics" and knocking out a couple of possible NIT candidates. Most of the conference races are a long way from being decided.

In addition, the NCAA has to pick eight at large teams before first round play begins March 12. Most of these probably will be drawn from teams also under consideration for NIT bids, so the competition exists, even though both sides try to soft-pedal it.

There's a complicating factor this year in that a college team can bid for places on the Olympic team only by playing in the NCAA tournament or the National AAU championships. That might influence some teams to avoid the NIT.

Stroudsburg Junior High Five Crushes Pen Argyl In Opener

STROUDSBURG JUNIOR HIGH School opened its 1956 basketball campaign yesterday with a crushing 40-19 decision over Pen Argyl Junior High. The game was played on the Stroudsburg High court.

The outcome of the game was never in doubt as the Mountaineers, under the guidance of Coach John Whitehead, displayed plenty of power in the first three periods.

A total of 31 players saw action in the contest, 17 for Stroudsburg and 14 for Pen Argyl.

Scoring

The home team enjoyed a 9-6 edge at the end of the first period and moved into a 21-12 advantage at the halfway mark.

Stroudsburg ran wild in the third period to cement the verdict and then held the visiting five on even terms in the last quarter.

The Mountaineers play East Stroudsburg Junior High on Tuesday.

Freeman Passes Floyd In Scoring

By The Associated Press
BY scoring 87 points in his last two games, Ohio State's Robin Freeman has passed Furman's Darrell Floyd for the major college basketball scoring lead—app it ought to be called a record.

For the first time in four years NCAA Service Bureau statistics today showed someone other than a Furman player in first place as late as February. Floyd, winner of the scoring title last season, took over from Freeman early this year. Before Floyd it was Frank Selvy who set scoring marks for Furman.

Margin

Freeman's margin, through Monday, Feb. 6, was just one tenth of a point per game. By scoring 41 points against Indiana last Saturday after a 46-point feat against Michigan State a week before, the Buckeye sharpshooter brought his season total to 508 points in 15 games—an average of 33.9 per game.

Floyd, who slumped to 29 points against George Washington Monday, dropped to a 33.8 average with 540 points in 16 games.

George Washington's Joe Holup, climbing into the first 10 in scoring, continued to show the best field goal percentage, .639, and the best rebound recovery percentage, .259.

Wall Fires 67 Round

TUCSON, Ariz., Feb. 9 (AP)—Two youngsters shot the best tournament golf of their lives today to take the lead in the $10,000 Tucson Open with seven-under-par 63's.

Gardner Dickinson Jr., slight 131-pounder from Panama City Beach, Fla., and chunky Bob Harris of Chicago each fired 32-31 over the 6,434-yard par-70 El Rio course.

Don January of Abilene, Tex., playing in his second pro tourney since leaving the Air Force in November, was just a stroke behind with 32-32-64.

NCAA Stars

All three front-runners are former NCAA stars. Dickinson at Louisiana State, Harris at San Jose (Calif.) State and January at North Texas State.

Ted Kroll of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., one of the circuit's most consistent money winners; young Gerald Kesselring of Toronto; Bob Duden of Portland, Ore., and Dave Douglas of Newark, Del., were only two strokes behind with 65's.

Art Wall Jr., Pocono Manor, Pa., and Jay Hebert, Sanford, Fla., were among 14 having 67's.

Baumann Wins Praise

SARASOTA, Fla., Feb. 9 (AP)—Southpaw Frank Baumann, 22, pitched two easy innings and drew praise from Manager Mike Higgins today at the Boston Red Sox pre-spring training school for young players.

Regular Turn

Baumann, who appeared in seven games with the Red Sox after his discharge from the Army last summer, is expected to take a regular turn on the mound this season. He has trimmed down from a hefty 220 to 198—about the same he weighed when he posted a 10-1 record for Louisville before entering the Army in 1953.

The "Blues" defeated the "Reds" 2-0 in the six-inning intra-squad game.

Lehigh Tops Princeton

LEHIGH ousted Princeton in a Stroudsburg High Intra-Mural League basketball game yesterday, 16-14, on the high school court.

Daye O'Connor, Princeton, topped the scorers with 10 points. Jimmy Kinney had seven markers for Lehigh.

Indians Turn Cavaliers Into Second Victim Of Campaign

INDIANS ROLLED TO A 34-21 victory over the Cavaliers in an East Stroudsburg Area Joint League basketball game yesterday. The contest was played on the East Stroudsburg Junior High School court.

Doug Cook and Phil LaBar led the Indians to their second victory in three outings, while the Cavaliers have lost all three circuit outings. Cook ran up 12 points in a winning cause and LaBar added 11 to the attack.

Jack Fellman paced the losing offense with 10 counters.

The Indians enjoyed a 6-4 advantage at the end of the first period and an 18-9 edge at halftime, on the strength of a 12-5 bulge in the second quarter.

It was the same story in the third quarter as the Indians held an 8-2 edge.

Boryla Agrees To Direct Knick Future

NEW YORK, Feb. 9 (AP)—Big Vince Boryla, who quit pro basketball two years ago to become a prosperous Denver businessman, agreed today to return as coach of the New York Knickerbockers of the National Basketball Assn.

From his home in Denver, where he had gone to try to rearrange his business affairs, Boryla came to terms by telephone with Ned Irish, executive vice president of Madison Square Garden and head of the Knickerbocker organization. He will take over immediately as coach for the rest of the current season and the 1956-57 campaign.

Offer

Boryla, 29, was offered the job two weeks ago after Joe Lapchick, Knicks' coach since 1947, announced he would retire at the end of this season. The original plan was for Lapchick to remain to the end of the season, with Boryla as associate.

Boryla will fly here tomorrow, Irish said, and be on hand for the Knicks' next game against St. Louis Saturday. Lapchick's status with the club will be settled after Boryla's arrival.

Circuit To Hold School For Umpires

MOUNT POCONO The Pocono Little League will definitely hold a school for umpires, it was decided at a poorly attended meeting held here at the school last night.

The umpires will begin going to school, under the direction of Frank Thomas, at the next circuit meeting. Thomas is past president of the league.

Small Turnout

Only 10 interested individuals took part in the discussion on umpires. All umpires work on a voluntary basis.

A general discussion of various problems also took place during the course of the short meeting.

RILEY

By JIM RILEY
Sports Editor

I SINCERELY hope that each of the youngsters present at the Stroudsburg Little League Banquet on Wednesday took to heart the advice presented by John Whitehead, guest speaker. Whitehead gave a short, but terrific talk to the youngsters. If the youth of this area would accept sound advice at the Little League age, our high school teams would be of higher calibre. Please boys, remember the words presented by the Stroudsburg High football coach at the YMCA. They will save you trouble in future years.

Bill Pensyl is playing terrific basketball for the Elizabethtown College varsity. He led his club to successive victories over Lebanon Valley and Millersville. Bill, a freshman, tallied 25 points and collected 18 rebounds against Lebanon Valley at Hershey last Friday. Pensyl is a resident of Portland and was a star on the East Stroudsburg High cage machine for three years. He also plays first base in baseball.

Bill Sommers, former three-letter athlete at East Stroudsburg High, will enroll at Moravian College in September. Bill pitched the Cavaliers to the Lehigh-Northampton League and the Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic Association District 11 baseball crowns last Spring. Tony Harlacher, a member of the present East Stroudsburg High basketball squad, is currently on the shelf with water on the knee. Tom may be out of action for the balance of the season.

Farley Peckhatka, a member of the Pocono High School basketball team, missed Tuesday's tussle with Barrett because of a bad attack of boils. Evan Reese, injured East Stroudsburg High football player, was a spectator at the Eastburg-Phillipsburg basketball game on Tuesday. Members of the Stroudsburg Little League are sending Reese a get well card. Gary Strauss, Bangor High basketball player, is currently hampered by an injured arm.

Gary Emanuel, a recent graduate of Penn State and former basketball star at Stroudsburg High, leaves for his first position as a chemical engineer in Detroit on Sunday. He will depart from Avoca Airport, Guy "Cub" Possinger, former Stroudsburg High eager now playing with East Stroudsburg State Teachers College, had four fouls in the very early moments of Tuesday's 111-69 verdict over Paterson Teachers. Paterson owns two victories over Trenton Teachers this season and Trenton has taken the measure of ESSTC in the only clash to date. Basketball just can't be figured.

Jack Sommers, Howard Smith and Bill "Bump" Metzger are all awaiting Army calls from Uncle Sam. Sommers played football and baseball at East Stroudsburg High, while Smith held down a football and basketball position for the same school. Metzger played football, basketball and baseball at Stroudsburg High. Sommers and Metzger are now members of the Gray's Chevrolet basketball team, an entry in the Pocono Mountains League.

The presence of two Scranton basketball officials at the recent Pocono-Barrett game further strained relations between the Monroe County League and the Stroudsburg Chapter of Approved Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic Association Basketball Officials. Don Hayes, co-captain of the Stroudsburg High School football team last season, is recovering from a slight concussion. The injury came as the result of a sleigh riding accident. Hayes was a patient at the Monroe County General Hospital for a short period.

Connie Mack's death is being as keenly felt in this section of the country as in any other. One of Mr. Baseball's last public appearance was at the Eastburg Highlights and Festival of Celebrities held two Summers past. Connie helped to draw a large crowd to the show at Memorial Stadium and to make the permanent lighting system a reality. Mack was loved by many and will be missed by many more. He was one of the founders of the American League and one of the greatest personalities the game will ever know.

Harry Obitz, head golf pro at Shawnee Inn and Country Club, recently spoke at Boy's Town and planned a three-hole golf course for the famous village. He plans several more visits to Boy's Town before returning to Monroe County in the Spring. It certainly is a shame that area basketball fans can't see both Fountain Hill and Palmerton on their visits to this locality this season. Fountain Hill plays at East Stroudsburg and Palmerton will be at Stroudsburg tonight.

East Stroudsburg Entertains Fountain Hill

Both Clubs Put Victory Habits On Line

EAST Stroudsburg High, only one half game out of first place, tangles with league leading Fountain Hill in a Lehigh-Northampton League basketball game on the N. Courtland St. hardwood today. It will be the second meeting of the two teams this season.

Fountain Hill, first half title holder, is currently leading the second half race with three victories and no defeats, while East Stroudsburg is unbeaten in two circuit outings.

The Hillers haven't lost a game since the opening contest of the season against Easton and have run up 11 straight Lehigh-Northampton League wins. East Stroudsburg has won five straight contests and the host team owns a season mark of 11 wins and four defeats.

Seek Revenge

Fountain Hill took the measure of East Stroudsburg in their first half meeting, 72-39, on the Fountain Hill court.

East Stroudsburg is hopeful of gaining revenge tonight, although Coach Dick Foster realizes that Fountain Hill is the toughest club his forces will meet all season.

Foster announced last night that he would stick with the same starting lineup that has fired the team to five straight favorable nods. This means that high scoring King Beers and Jim Kimler will be at the forward slots and Co-Captain Lanny Marvin will handle the center chores. Co-Captain Dick Gray will be at one guard post and hard working Harry Miller at the other defensive position.

Dale Metzgar is also expected to see plenty of service for the Cavaliers.

Junior varsity action is set for 6:30 p.m. and the main event for approximately 8 p.m.

East Stroudsburg is scheduled to play Pen Argyl, at Pen Argyl, next Tuesday.

Wilson Asks NCAA Action

CHICAGO, Feb. 9 (AP)—Big Ten Commissioner Kenneth (Tug) Wilson said today he will ask the National Collegiate Athletic Assn. to censure the Wartung College basketball coach for "unwarranted behavior" in attacking Big Ten athletic policy.

Wilson, en route home from the Winter Olympic Games had a statement released in Chicago describing as "groundless" and "malicious" a charge by Ernest F. Opperman, the Wartung coach, that the transfer of a 6-7 basketball player from Wartung to Wisconsin evinced "Big Ten professionalism."

Transfer

The player, Ray Gross, spent the 1954-55 school year at Wisconsin, transferred to Wartung last fall and returned to Wisconsin last month for the second semester and immediately became eligible for the Badger basketball team.

Opperman made his charge in an open letter to Wilson whose office said it has not yet been received. The Wartung coach decried Big Ten eligibility rules and accused Wisconsin officials of "tampering" with Gross.

State Grid Star Returns

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Feb. 9 (AP)—Fullback Hubert Bobo, 21, brilliant sophomore star of Ohio State's 1955 Rose Bowl champions, will return to school soon on "disciplinary probation," university officials announced tonight.

If he measures up scholastically, he may be eligible for football next fall, university spokesmen said. He was dropped from school last spring when he failed to clear scholastic hurdles. He was suspended for one year.

Statements

Dr. Bland L. Stradley, vice president for student relations at the school, said the star's readmission will preclude his participating in any extra-curricular activities for spring and summer quarters.

Commercial 'C' To Roll

COMMERCIAL "C" League keglers will clash at Harmon's Recreation today at 9:15 p.m. Schedule follows:

Alleys one and two—Kreamee Ice Cream vs. Cole's Drug Store.

Alleys three and four—Kitty's Tavern vs. Tru-Matic.

Alleys five and six—Regina Hotel vs. Lanterman's Funeral Home.

Palmerton Invades Stroudsburg Court

PALMERTON, currently en route to its second straight Lehigh Valley League basketball championship, will make its only appearance of the season in Stroudsburg today, when the Blue Bombers stack up against Stroudsburg High on the W. Main St. court.

The junior varsity tussle is on the agenda for 6:45 p.m. and the varsity battle for approximately 8:15 p.m.

Palmerton, defending champion in the circuit, walked off with the first half championship this season and has won the first three games of the second half campaign.

Stroudsburg is currently caught in the grasp of a 12-game losing streak, including 10 against Lehigh Valley League opposition. The Mountaineers have won only two of 15 contests played against all opposition this season.

Coach "Win" Evans will bring his Palmerton forces to town with brilliant Bob Mikvy, brother of the famed Bill Mikvy, as the headline attraction.

Palmerton will present a well balanced club that is deep in reserves. The Bombers were the pre-season choice to grab their second straight title and they are well on their way to that goal.

Coach John Kupiec announced yesterday that he was certain of only one starter and that is the outstanding Doug Shook, big center. Other starters will be chosen from a list including Don "Uckie" Setzer, Don Hickey, Francis "Sonny" Dieber, Al Driebe, Jimmy Welsh, Ron "Super" Phillips and Tom Savidge.

Stroudsburg will also be at home next Tuesday against Emmaus, another club that has failed to capture a favorable verdict to date in the second half basketball wars.

Waymart Nears Wayne County Cage Title

HONESDALE — Teams in the Southern half of the Wayne County Basketball Conference are down to their last chance of stopping Waymart from taking the crown in that division tonight.

The Stags of Greene-Dreher represent the last barrier to the Warriors as they play host to the Newfoundland crew in what will be the flag-clinching contest should the charges of Coach Pat "Red" Walsh continue on their unbeaten way.

In other games, Lake Ariel will be at Honesdale, Pleasant Mount visits Hawley and Damascus entertains winless Preston.

With the Southern crown only 32 minutes away, the Warrior's stock in the Northern half went up a few points Tuesday night as they romped over Preston, 68-50, and Hawley all but eliminated Lake Ariel by scoring a 68-59 win over the Lakers. As it now stands, only Hawley has the outside chance of catching the high-flying Waymarters.

Free Scoring

Coach Walsh used 11 players against the hapless Preston five and all scored with Bill Henshaw's 16 point output and Joe Costolnick's 15 the best efforts. Kane and Deschak with 17 points each were the leaders for the losers.

Hawley's triumph avenged an earlier set back by the Lakers. The teams battled on even terms throughout the first half but the Buckhorns had it all their way in the final periods to win handily.

Jim Gellati was high with 19 while "Spik" Gille added 16 and Harry Strauser helped with 13. Jim Gregory and Bill Roman had 14 points each for the Laker cause.

Bangor Girls Face Pen Argyl

BANGOR — The Bangor High School girls' basketball team will play host to the Pen Argyl lassies here on the former's home court today at 4 p.m. Bangor will be searching for its second win of the campaign over Pen Argyl.

The Slaterettes have three games remaining on their schedule after today's contest.

Auxiliary Loop Slated

MEMBERS OF the American Legion Auxiliary League will see action at the Pocono Bowling Center today at 9 p.m. Schedule follows:

Alleys one and two—Nite Owls vs. Woodpeckers.

Alleys three and four—Pixies vs. Bell Ringers.

Alleys seven and eight—Missileers vs. Five Aces.

Indiana Star Paces Conference In Individual Scoring Derby

JOHNSTOWN, Feb. 9.—Jack Crossan of Indiana leads the scoring parade in the 14-team Pennsylvania State Teachers College Basketball Conference. Crossan has tallied 172 points in seven games—eight points better than John Parker of Millersville.

Crossan also holds the high average scoring lead with 25 points per game—the pace he must retain in the remaining four Indiana conference games if he is to better the mark of 270 points set last season by Roger Coviera of Kutztown.

West Shines

Clyde West, of Cheyney, out-pointed Crossan by two points as the leading high scorer in a single game this season by tallying 37 points against Kutztown. West holds all-time STC high score in single game with 42 points, sharing this honor with George Dintiman of Lock Haven. West currently is behind Crossan by one average point with 94 points in four conference games.

Having played eight semesters, Roger Coviera of Kutztown finished his STC basketball career last month. Coviera holds the conference's total scoring honors with 814 points in 37 STC games for an average of 22 points per game.

The leading scorers:

| Player          | Team         | Pts | Avg  |
|-----------------|--------------|-----|------|
| Jack Crossan    | Indiana      | 172 | 24.6 |
| John Parker     | Millersville | 164 | 23.4 |
| Roger Coviera   | Kutztown     | 814 | 21.9 |
| Len Kozick      | Bloomburg    | 244 | 24.4 |
| Don Albright    | Lock Haven   | 242 | 24.2 |
| Joe Helms       | Indiana      | 238 | 23.8 |
| Don Barlow      | Shippensburg | 237 | 23.7 |
| Gerald Torrette | L. Haven     | 216 | 21.6 |

Logart Rates Favorite Role

NEW YORK, Feb. 9 (AP)—Isaac Logart, 22, a young Cuban with a chance to follow Kid Gavilan's path to the welterweight title, is favored to move closer to the top by disposing of Ramon Fuentes of Los Angeles tomorrow night at Madison Square Garden.

The slasher is from Camaguey, Gavilan's home town.

Logart's Ratings

Fuentes, 29, outranks Logart in the latest ring ratings although the Cuban had been moving up fast. Fuentes was No. 3 and Logart No. 5 in ring, although the rankings are virtually reversed by the National Boxing Assn.

Network radio and television (NBC) will carry the 10-round match, starting at 10 p.m. (EST). The usual New York scoring system on a basis of rounds will prevail.

Logart's career record is 40-5-5 for 50 fights and Fuentes' is 35-6-1 for 42 starts.

Chestnuthill Fights Barrett For Third

MAIN attraction in the Monroe County Basketball League is the battle for third place between Barrett and Chestnuthill which will take place on the latter's home court in Brodheadsville today. This is one of three games to be played in the circuit.

In each case junior varsity action is set for 7:15 p.m. and the varsity contests for approximately one hour later.

Barrett is currently holding down the number three spot in the standings with a mark of seven wins and five defeats, while fourth place Chestnuthill is currently sporting a mark of six victories and the same number of setbacks.

Two Decisions

Chestnuthill, the defending title holder, has been beaten twice by Barrett this season.

First place Pocono will go through its paces on the home boards in Tannersville, with a troublesome Poik squad providing the opposition. Pocono is currently in the top spot with a record of 10 favorable decisions and two reversals.

Polk has lost eight of 11 games played to date.

Second place Coilbaugh, still very much in the flag race, will invade the home domain of Tobyhanna Township High, in Pocono Pines. Coilbaugh has won nine of 12 games, while TTHS has lost all 11 of its circuit outings.

The Monroe County League will also feature full schedules next Tuesday and Friday.

Indians Sign Old Battery

CLEVELAND, Feb. 9 (AP)—Bob Feller, 37, and Jim Hegan, 35, the oldest battery in baseball from the point of service, signed their 1956 contracts today with the Cleveland Indians.

It was the 17th Cleveland contract for pitcher Feller and the 12th for catcher Hegan.

Warriorettes Risk Streak At Ursinus

GIRLS OF East Stroudsburg State Teachers College will place their undefeated basketball record on the line today against a powerful Ursinus College crew. The game, slated for 3:30 p.m., will be played at Ursinus.

ESSTC has defeated Misericordia and Cheyney in its only two trips to the hardwood thus far this season.

Coach Anne L. Venezia is expected to stick with the same lineup that has accounted for the two victories.

Starters
This means that Eillian Williams, Carol Sue Underwood and Lorraine Boyd will handle the forward duties, while Patricia Zimmerman, Orphelia Ensor and Joyce Fuhrman operate in the guard section.

Doris Herrmann, who has been out of action with a dislocated knee, may or may not see service for the Warriorettes today.

Post Agrees To Terms
CINCINNATI, Feb. 9 (AP)—Wally Post, Cincinnati Redleg who hit 40 home runs last season and batted .309, signed his 1956 contract today.

Barrett is currently holding down the number three spot in the standings with a mark of seven wins and five defeats, while fourth place Chestnuthill is currently sporting a mark of six victories and the same number of setbacks.

Industrial Promoter To Speak Here

ALVIN C. HOPKINS, manager of industrial development of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad, will be the principal speaker at a special meeting of the Pocono Mountains Chamber of Commerce on Feb. 20, at noon, at the Penn-Stroud Hotel, Walter S. Peeny, chamber president, announced yesterday.

Hopkins will speak on "The Potential of the Stragetic Stroudsborgs."

The full membership of the chamber will be invited to attend.

Hopkins, who has been with the Lackawanna for 18 years, is president of the Pennsylvania Utilities Railroad Area Development Association and is a member of the New Jersey Development Association, the American Industrial Development Council, the American Railroad Development Association and the Society of Industrial Real-estate.

Served In Navy

A graduate of Trinity College, Hartford, Conn., he did graduate work at the University of Pennsylvania and during World War Two served in the Supply Corps of the U. S. Navy.

Hopkins was appointed to his present position in 1952. Since that time his department's program to attract new businesses to the railroad has been stepped up and 63 new industries, both large and small, have been brought into the railroad's territory.

Mr. Hopkins, himself, speaks of his department as having been born of "an enlightened self-interest," meaning that what is good for the community is likewise good for the railroad.

"If there is a payroll in the offing," says Hopkins, "regardless of freight, we try to cooperate and help the community in locating the particular interest."

The executive committee and the board of directors will meet in separate meetings preceding the full membership meeting that day at 11 a.m. and 11:30 a.m., respectively.

Alvin C. Hopkins

Scouts Attend Church Service In Cherry Valley

BOY SCOUT Troop 84 of the Cherry Valley Charge observed Scout Sunday by attending the worship service Sunday night in the Kellersville Methodist Church.

Two of the boys acted as ushers for the service. The pastor, Rev. C. Clyde Levergood, used as his theme "Boys of the Bible Whom God Used in His Service."

The following members of the troop were present: Howard Koehler, Scoutmaster; Charles Schuler, William Ortoski, Edward Haney, Thomas Nelson, Lawrence Boyd, Jr., Glenn Post, Kevin Stout, Barry Bond, Elton Setzer, Henry Scholhammer, Elmer and Philip Albert. Due to illness other members of the troop were absent.
